

ssh on multiple servers Using cluster ssh

Cluster SSH opens terminal windows with connections to specified hosts and any commands typed into the administration console is replicated to all other connected and but not limited to, cluster administration where the same configuration or commands are run on the cluster. Performing these commands all at once via this tool ensures all nodes you're interested in this topic, be sure to check out the project as well. It was created by LXer veteran Paul F. announced