

Bagossoftware Launches Website for Shareware and Freeware

Software products ranging from educational product to screen savers, games, messengers, e-mail tools, design tools, security, CAD, dictionaries, audio and video, and web development tools are all featured in topical categories and ranked by download volume, and the most recently added. Users have the ability to rate each software product (registration required) to share with other users.